

Ms. Kimberly Shaw, M.Ed, CFE, National Training Certification, International Association of Directors of Law Enforcement Standards and Training (IADLEST), Fayetteville, NC

Kimberly has 33 years of experience in law enforcement. She served as a Special Agent with the DC Office of the Inspector General (OIG) and investigated fraud, waste, abuse, and misconduct from 2014 – 2018. Prior to working for the OIG, Kimberly worked as a Criminal Research Specialist for the Metropolitan Police Department in Washington, DC, and an Intelligence Analyst for the Pennsylvania State Police, Bureau of Investigation. In 2003, Kimberly accepted a position as Police Training Education Specialist with the Pennsylvania Municipal Police Officers' Education and Training Commission in Harrisburg, PA. Major duties included proposing, developing, implementing, and evaluating police training programs targeting over 23,000 police officers. Kimberly wrote, coordinated, and taught Legal Updates, Off-Duty Decision Making, Officer Awareness: Meth Labs, "Games Criminals Play": Unusual Weapons & Concealment, and Gang Awareness & Identification courses for the state of Pennsylvania. Kimberly started her career as a sworn police officer at Temple University Police Department in 1985, and was promoted to Detective in 1993. Early in her career, she became a certified police instructor, teaching in-service and professional development classes to sworn law enforcement officers in Pennsylvania.

Kimberly earned a Bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice and a Master's degree in Adult and Organizational Development from Temple University. She is a Certified Fraud Examiner and a Certified Rape Aggression Defense instructor. Kimberly is a public speaker, mentor, and volunteers to present safety presentations.

Kimberly Shaw can be contacted at
Shawkl@outlook.com
267-238-7484